William & Mary
The Wren Building

William & Mary is unlike any other university in America.

We're the second oldest institution of higher education in the nation, but also a cutting-edge research university. We're one of only eight in the nation offering a world-class education at an exceptional value.

Our students are not only some of the smartest in the world, but passionate about serving others and serious about having fun. Our professors are teachers, scholars and research mentors, the cornerstone of a thriving intellectual community that produces experienced, engaged, successful graduates.

Through their strengths, passions and knowledge, our faculty, students and staff are creating a new model of sustainability for higher education.

We love our hometown of Williamsburg and the amazing Commonwealth of Virginia and we're proud to be one of the reasons for their economic success.

We're famous for our rigorous liberal arts curriculum and our dedicated, engaged professors. Our students are nothing short of exceptional; they're scholars, athletes, activists, musicians, world travelers and generous volunteers. Our campus, adjoining Colonial Williamsburg, is a masterpiece of preservation and innovation.

W&M Fast Facts

- Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's first academic Greek society, was founded here in 1776

The Home of Champions

W&M has a long tradition of tremendous success competing in the Colonial Athletic Association and has earned 151 conference championships – more than any other program in the league's history.

William & Mary Athletics strives for excellence in all that we do.

Athletics is an integral part of the educational experience at William & Mary. Our responsibility is to deliver a holistic experience with high standards of performance; providing an environment where champions of uncompromising character, fully engaged with campus and the community, prepare to make a positive impact on a complex and changing world.

W&M Athletics has produced more CAA champions than any program in the league's history. The success in competition can only be matched by the commitment to excellence in the classroom, as William & Mary's Federal Graduation Rate has ranked in the top two among all public university athletics departments for each of the past 18 years.

William & Mary Athletics Facts

- Eleven 11 W&M teams earned a 100 percent GSR; 18 teams had GSRs of 90 or higher
- W&M's 88 percent federal graduation rate was well ahead of the national average (69 percent)
- Four Rhodes Scholars were W&M student-athletes
- W&M's Federal Graduation Rate (FGR) has ranked in the top two among all public university athletics departments for each of the past 18 years
- W&M honored 225 student-athletes as winners of the Provost Award in 2022-23. The honor recognizes student-athletes who maintain a 3.5 GPA or better

THE PRESIDENT

Katherine A. Rowe
President

On February 20, 2018, William & Mary's Board of Visitors unanimously elected Katherine A. Rowe as the 28th president of the university. Nationally recognized as an innovator in higher education, Rowe champions the liberal arts, entrepreneurship and strengthening education-workforce pathways. She began on July 1, 2018 and was inaugurated on February 8, 2019. On November 19, 2021, the Board unanimously approved an early extension of President Rowe's contract, through June 2028.

Under Rowe's leadership, William & Mary has advanced access and affordability, holding tuition flat for five years, from 2019-2023. Her cross-university initiatives include a central Entrepreneurship Hub, a Studio for Teaching & Learning Innovation, W&M's first Sustainability Plan and Climate Action Roadmap, realization of William & Mary's long-planned Memorial to the Enslaved, a Veteran to Executive Transition program, an Institute for Integrative Conservation and a university-wide approach to inclusive excellence. William & Mary successfully closed its For the Bold campaign in June 2020, raising just over $1 billion.

Rowe oversaw the creation of William & Mary's ambitious strategic plan, Vision 2026, via an inclusive, multi-year planning process. During the first phase of planning, the university community came together to craft William &

Mary's first-ever statement of shared values. Consistent with the strategic goals outlined in Vision 2026, Rowe announced in 2022 a commitment to cover full tuition and fees for all in-state Pell Grant recipients beginning in fall 2023.

As president, Rowe led William & Mary's effective COVID-19 response, joining forces with the City of Williamsburg and other key local partners. In August of 2020 William & Mary reconvened in-person learning, uninterrupted – flexibly adapting every university practice and system to ensure that students could maintain momentum to their degrees. Key institutional innovations were launched during the pandemic: enhanced career development for students, a unified approach to Communications and Marketing and a whole-university Council for Community Partnerships.

Rowe serves on the Northern Virginia Technology Council, the Virginia Business and Higher Education Council Board, RVA757 Connects, the Virginia American Revolution 250 Commission and the GoVA Region 5 Council. Rowe was named to the Virginia Business Virginia 500 Power List in 2020, 2021 and 2022. In 2020, Diverse: Issues in Higher Education named Rowe one of the top 35 women in higher education.

Previously, Rowe served as provost and dean of faculty at Smith College in Massachusetts. Earlier in her career, Rowe co-founded and served as the CEO of Luminary Digital Media, which developed educational apps for Shakespeare's plays.

Rowe holds a bachelor's degree from Carleton College and a master's and a Ph.D. from Harvard University. She has completed graduate work in Cinema and Media Studies at New York University's Tisch School of the Arts. Her areas of research and scholarship include Shakespeare, Milton, Renaissance drama and media history.

An award-winning teacher, Rowe spent 16 years at Bryn Mawr College as an English professor, department chair and director of the Katharine Hepburn Center for leadership and public engagement. She began her teaching career as an assistant professor of English at Yale. Prior to arriving at William & Mary she held the Sophia Smith chair at Smith College.

Rowe has published three books: New Wave Shakespeare on Screen with Thomas Cartelli (Polity Press, 2007), Reading the Early Modern Passions: Essays in the Cultural History of Emotion as co-editor (Penn Press, 2004) and Dead Hands: Fictions of Agency, Renaissance to Modern (Stanford, 2000). She has editing credits in the Cambridge Guide to the Worlds of Shakespeare. With more than 350 scholarly contributors from five continents, this world-standard, multi-volume, reference work was honored in 2016 by the American Association of Publishers with two PROSE awards, considered the most prestigious in the publishing industry.

Dr. Rowe is a past president of the Shakespeare Association of America. She served on Harvard's Board of Overseers' Visiting Committee of the Library and the Executive Committee of the American Council of Learned Societies. She has held various scholarly memberships as well as service positions in the Modern Language Association and the American Council of Learned Societies.

Rowe spent more than a decade coaching Ultimate Frisbee and has led multiple teams to state championships in Pennsylvania. She was a World Ultimate Club Finalist and a Women's Nationals Finalist. She co-founded the nonprofit Boston Ultimate Disc Alliance and the Carleton College women's Ultimate team.

Rowe shares her love of Ultimate with her spouse, Bruce Jacobson, William & Mary's First Gentleman. They have two adult children, Daniel and Beah.

Robert M. Gates '65, L.H.D. '98
Chancellor

Robert M. Gates '65, L.H.D. '98, was named twenty-fourth Chancellor of William & Mary by the Board of Visitors at his investiture on February 3, 2012. He succeeded Sandra Day O'Connor, former Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, who was appointed in 2005. He was re-invested for a second term on February 8, 2019.

Chancellor Gates is the first alumnus to hold this ceremonial position in William & Mary's modern era. As U.S. Secretary of Defense from 2006 to 2011, he became the only person in American history to serve under presidents from different political parties. In his words, William & Mary instilled in him "a calling to serve—a sense of duty to community and country that this college has sought to instill in each generation of students for more than 300 years."

Chancellor Gates began a career in public service soon after his graduation from William & Mary. In 1966, he joined the Central Intelligence Agency, working for six presidents during nearly 27 years as an intelligence officer. During this period, he was a National Security Council staff member for nine years. Gates is the only career officer in the CIA's history to rise from being an entry-level employee to become the agency's director, a post he held from 1991 to 1993. He was Deputy Director of the CIA from 1986 until 1989 and Assistant to the President and Deputy National Security Adviser at the White House for President George H. W. Bush from January 1989 until November 1991. On December 18, 2006, Gates took office as the nation's 22nd Secretary of Defense under President George W. Bush. When inaugurated in January 2009, President Barack Obama asked Gates to continue in office.

In June 2011, Gates retired as Secretary of Defense. At the farewell ceremony, President Obama awarded him the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the country's highest civilian honor. He has also received the National Security Medal and the Presidential Citizens Medal. Gates was awarded the National Intelligence Distinguished Service Medal twice and the Distinguished Intelligence Medal, the CIA's highest award, three times.

Gates has authored four books to include his memoirs and a guide to leadership and institutional reform. His most recent book, Exercise of Power, details non-military instruments of power and their incorporation into US foreign policy.

A history major at William & Mary, Gates was an active member of Alpha Phi Omega, a service organization that he led as a senior. Gates was also a dormitory manager and orientation aide as well as the business manager of the William & Mary Review, a literary and art magazine. At graduation, he received the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award, given to honor splendid characteristics of heart, mind and helpfulness to others.

Chancellor Gates' ties to his alma mater run deep. He has been a trustee of the William & Mary Foundation Board and spoke at Charter Day in 1998 and again in 2013 as well as at Commencement in 2007. He received an honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters from the university in 1998 and the Alumni Medallion, the Alumni Association's highest honor, in 2000.

A native of Kansas, Gates earned his master's degree in history from Indiana University and a doctorate in Russian and Soviet history from Georgetown University. From 2002 until 2006, he was president of Texas A&M University. Gates is a distinguished Eagle Scout and served as the Boy Scouts of America national president from 2014-2016. Gates joined the Board of Governors of the NCAA in 2020 as one of its five independent members. In the fall of 2021, he chaired the institution's Constitution Committee, delivering a new constitution to reshape collegiate athletics. Gates and his wife, Becky, live in Washington state.

Brian Mann is entering his third year as William & Mary's Director of Athletics. He was named the university's AD on June 23, 2021, and began his tenure at W&M on Aug. 9, 2021.

He is responsible for the daily operations of the Athletics Department and its approximately 500 student-athletes and 120 coaches and staff. He oversees the university's 23 Division I varsity sports, which compete in the Coastal Athletic Association (CAA).

During the 2022-23 year, Tribe Athletics won two conference championships, with women's tennis repeating as CAA Champions and football earning the program's sixth conference title and tying the school record with 11 wins.

Other athletics highlights include:

- For the second year in a row, two-time Women's Tennis Head Coach Jessica Giuggioli was named CAA Coach of the Year
- Four student-athletes were named Rookie of the Year
- Five student-athletes were named Player of the Year
- Two baseball players were selected in the MLB draft, including Ben Williamson, who was the second-round draft pick of the Seattle Mariners
- Colby Sorsdal ended his Tribe career as a consensus All-American and was selected by the Detroit Lions in the 5th round of the NFL Draft.
- Men's soccer's Diba Nwagbo continued his playing career, post-graduation by joining Birmingham Legion FC

Tribe student-athletes also had a stellar academic year:

- For the first time all 23 programs had cumulative GPAs of over 3.0
- A record 225 student-athletes earned the Provost Award (GPA of 3.5 +)
- An NCAA report lists William & Mary with the highest Federal Graduation Rate among all Division I public schools – for the 17th time in 18 years
- The Tribe had a graduation rate of 88%, nearly 20 points higher than the national average and was tenth among public and private schools at the D-I level

At the end of fiscal year, W&M Athletics reported raising $13.1 million in gifts and pledges, surpassing last year's $10.9 million. Twelve teams bettered their fundraising totals, with seven achieving their goals as part of $6,819,730 in annual gifts received across the department. The $808,000 that was raised on One Tribe One Day marked the largest amount collected in the history of the Athletics Department.

Student-athletes, coaches, and fans will all benefit from the ongoing renovation and expansion of Kaplan Arena, which features a new weight room, new locker rooms and study areas, plus renovated practice and game spaces. This fall a cutting-edge scoreboard with enhanced digital capabilities will be installed in Kaplan. Plans for the Mackesy Sports Performance Center (MSPC) – the crown jewel of the W&M Athletics Complex, are also taking shape.

Mann continues his focus on student-athlete well-being and with the launch of the innovative EXCEL program, adds a component that will provide student-athletes with enhanced opportunities for personal development and for life post-graduation.

While he joined W&M Athletics in 2021, Mann is not a newcomer to William & Mary. "Many years ago, I toured the campus with a friend. I fell in love right then and I've been keeping an eye on William & Mary ever since," he said.

The impact of a student-athlete's experience is intensely personal, said Mann. "While my parents weren't able to secure their degrees, they instilled in their five children the importance of higher education. I know how difficult it is to earn a college degree, especially at an institution with the rigorous standards of a Public Ivy. Being a former student-athlete, I also understand the commitment, discipline and hard work the Tribe's student-athletes demonstrate every day."

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

A seasoned athletics administrator, Mann has more than 20 years of experience in intercollegiate athletics, the private sector and professional sports. Prior to W&M, he was the senior associate athletics director at the University of California, Berkeley.

As chief development officer/senior associate athletics director at UC Berkeley, Mann was the architect for the athletics department's $350 million portion of the university's $6 billion campaign. He helped orchestrate a $12.5 million gift to create a new student-athlete development program, a $10.8 million bequest in support of women's athletics and the first-ever head coach endowment for a women's sport at Berkeley. He had sport oversight of the men's basketball team and was a key contributor to the department's ongoing strategic plan.

Prior to his stint at UC Berkeley, Mann was chief development officer and senior associate athletics director at Rice, where he was responsible for all fundraising for the Owls' athletics programs. He also was the single contact between athletics and the office of admission for all 16 sports.

Mann got his start in athletics at Dartmouth College, his alma mater, where he served as director of football operations and began his work in fundraising. Mann holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Dartmouth, where he played quarterback. His 5,912 career passing yards are third on the Big Green's all-time list. Before beginning his career in academia, Mann played professional football for the L.A. Avengers of the Arena Football League.

He and his wife Hilary have two young sons, Russell and Henry. They reside in Williamsburg.

After leading the William & Mary football team to one of the program's best seasons in school history last fall, Head Coach Mike London returns for his fifth season at the helm of the Tribe.

Under London's leadership, W&M catapulted to the national forefront in 2022 as it secured a share of the Colonial Athletic Association title, earned a No. 5 seed in the NCAA Playoffs and advanced to the NCAA Quarterfinals. Additionally, W&M equaled a school record for wins (11) and posted program records for regular season victories (10) and road triumphs (6). Highlighting the wins were three victories against nationally ranked opponents and a lopsided season-opening triumph at FBS opponent Charlotte.

W&M's success was recognized at the national level, as London was selected as a finalist for the Eddie Robinson Award, which honors the FCS National Coach of the Year, and finished fourth in the final voting. Additionally, London was selected as the Bobby Ross Coach of the Year by the Touchdown Club of Richmond and the VaSID (Virginia Sports Information Directors) Coach of the Year.

In addition to the team's success, a number of Tribe standouts were recognized with national honors for their outstanding individual contributions. Highlighting an impressive group of six players who earned All-America recognition were linebacker John Pius, offensive lineman Colby Sorsdal and cornerback Jalen Jones. Pius was a finalist for the Buck Buchanan Award (FCS National Defensive Player of the Year) and finished second in the final voting, while Jones was a finalist for the Jerry Rice Award (FCS Freshman of the Year). Sorsdal garnered consensus All-America distinction and was invited to the East-West Shrine Bowl before being selected by the Detroit Lions in the fifth round of the 2023 NFL Draft.

Additionally, 13 Tribe standouts combined to earn 15 all-conference honors, highlighted by a school-record tying seven first-team selections, including the CAA Defensive Player of the Year, John Pius, and the CAA Defensive Rookie of the Year, Jalen Jones.

W&M also rewrote its record book in 2022, as it set single-season school records for rushing yards (3,455), rushing yards per game (265.8) and rushing yards per carry (5.9). Additionally, the Tribe's points per game (33.5), rushing touchdowns (35) and total yards per game (448.8) all ranked among the program's top five. Defensively, W&M's 33 sacks also ranked as the seventh-best total in school history.

The Tribe also excelled in the classroom as 55 players earned CAA Commissioner's Academic Honor Roll accolades.

London, a former assistant under longtime Tribe head coach Jimmie Laycock, returned to Williamsburg with an impressive list of accomplishments as a head coach that includes winning a national title at the University of Richmond (2008) and earning Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year distinction at the University of Virginia (2011).

Howard University's head coach from 2017-18, London's tenure leading the Bison was highlighted with his selection as a finalist for the 2017 STATS Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) Eddie Robinson Award, which is bestowed upon the nation's top head coach. Additionally, he earned the 2017 American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) Regional Coach of the Year award after guiding Howard to a 6-2 conference record – the program's first winning season since 2012. His inaugural campaign at HU featured a season-opening win at UNLV, which ESPN lauded as one of college football's greatest upsets.

In addition to garnering ACC Coach of the Year honors at UVA in 2011, London led the Cavaliers to the Chick-Fil-A Bowl. En route to earning the postseason bowl bid, he guided UVA to road wins at Miami and Florida State – becoming the first program in the nation to accomplish the feat in the same season.

London gained his first head coaching experience at Richmond, his alma mater, where he amassed a 24-5 record and guided the Spiders to the 2008 FCS national title during his initial campaign. His efforts were recognized by the AFCA, which selected him as the FCS National Coach of the Year. After leading the Spiders to an 8-0 start the following season, UR became just the third FCS school to receive a vote in the Associated Press (AP) Poll.

A standout defensive back at Richmond (1979-82), London served as a team captain his senior season and was signed by the Dallas Cowboys as a free agent in 1983.

London and his wife, Regina, have four children: daughters Ticynn, Jaicyn and Madicyn and son Korben. He has three children from a previous marriage: sons Michael Jr. and Brandon, and daughter Kristen.

Christian Taylor

*Offensive Coordinator • RB
4th Season*

After helping elevate W&M into one of the nation's most productive, efficient and explosive offensive units, Christian Taylor '07 enters his fourth season as the Tribe's Offensive Coordinator and Running Backs Coach eager to continue building upon the program's success.

Under Taylor's leadership, W&M ascended to new heights in 2022 as he utilized a fundamentally sound, explosive and creative offensive philosophy that generated record-setting numbers and helped the Tribe equal a school record with 11 victories, win a share of the CAA title and advance to the NCAA Quarterfinals.

Additional evidence of W&M's success in 2022 is found in the squad's statistical national ranking, as it concluded the regular season among the country's best in yards per play, explosive runs, passing yards per attempt and rushing yards per carry. The Tribe also set single-season school records for rushing yards (3,455), rushing yards per game (265.8) and rushing yards per carry (5.9), while its points per game (33.5), rushing touchdowns (35) and total yards per game (448.8) all ranked among the program's top five best figures.

With a multiple, well-rounded offense, often interwoven with innovative schemes and plays not yet seen, Taylor has developed a record-breaking run game at W&M combined with one of the nation's most efficient and explosive passing attacks. In addition to a stable of running backs that features no less than four All-America caliber standouts, Taylor has helped develop junior quarterback Darius Wilson into an elite signal caller who ranked first in the CAA and among the top 10 nationally in passing efficiency, explosive passes and yards per completion.

Among those benefiting from Taylor's tutelage and offensive system were six standouts who earned All-CAA honors in 2022. Additionally, OL Colby Sorsdal was a consensus All-America selection and was selected by the Detroit Lions in the fifth round of the 2023 NFL Draft.

Ras-I Dowling

*Co-Defensive Coordinator • DB
5th Season*

Ras-I Dowling enters his fifth season at W&M and his first as the co-defensive coordinator after earning the promotion during the offseason. He will continue to serve as the Tribe's secondary coach, a role he has held since 2020.

Promoted to W&M's defensive passing game coordinator prior to the 2022 season, Dowling made a tremendous impact on the Tribe's success last fall. His unit helped the Tribe rank sixth nationally in third down conversion defense (.315) and 18th in pass efficiency defense (117.8) – figures that ranked first and second, respectively, in the Colonial Athletic Association. Additionally, W&M ranked third in the CAA in pass defense (199.15) and interceptions (10).

Highlighting the Tribe standouts who benefited from Dowling's tutelage were a pair of cornerbacks in Jalen Jones and Ryan Poole. Jones was selected as the CAA Defensive Rookie of the Year and was a finalist for the Jerry Rice Award, which honors the FCS National Freshman of the Year. Additionally, he was chosen as the state of Virginia's Defensive Rookie of the Year by VaSID and earned freshman All-America distinction by Stats Perform, HERO Sports and Phil Steele Magazine. Poole earned All-CAA first-team accolades, marking the second straight season he has garnered all-league honors, while Jones was joined on the VaSID All-State Team by safety Tye Freeland.

Dowling excelled as a standout player under London's tutelage at UVA where he garnered All-America honors in 2010 and earned All-ACC accolades three times. Additionally, he served as a team captain and was a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA).

Drafted by Bill Belichick and the New England Patriots with the 33rd overall pick in the 2011 NFL Draft, Dowling became the highest selected defensive back to ever play at the University of Virginia.

Bo Revell

*Co-Defensive Coordinator • ILB
9th Season*

Bo Revell enters his ninth season at W&M and his first as the co-defensive coordinator after earning the promotion during the offseason. He will continue to oversee the Tribe's inside linebackers.

A former standout tight end at W&M (2010-14), and a team captain, Revell has held numerous coordinator roles on the Tribe's staff during his tenure as an assistant coach, including special teams coordinator (2021), recruiting coordinator (2020-21) and video coordinator (2017-19).

Revell continued to make his mark on W&M's defensive unit with another tremendously successful campaign last season, as his group helped the squad rank first nationally in fumbles recovered (15), seventh in turnovers gained (25), sixth in third down conversion defense (.315) and 16th in red zone defense (.736). Additionally, the Tribe ranked second in the CAA in sacks (33) – a figure that ranks seventh on the program's all-time single-season list.

Highlighting the Tribe standouts who benefited from Revell's tutelage was all-conference selection Isaiah Jones, who was one of the league's most productive linebackers.

As special teams coordinator, Revell also helped elevate W&M's special team's units into one of the conference's premier groups as it ranked second in the CAA in net kickoffs (41.8) and was highlighted by a pair of all-league selections in Caylin Newton (specialist) and Ethan Chang (place kicker).

In addition to producing multiple all-conference standouts during his tenure, Revell helped oversee the development of 2015 Butkus Award Watch List standout Luke Rhodes. One of the nation's top collegiate linebackers throughout his career at W&M, Rhodes signed a free agent contract with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers following a successful senior season in which he earned first-team all-conference honors. Rhodes is currently a member of the Indianapolis Colts and was selected as an All-Pro in 2021.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Matt Johns

*Passing Game Coord. • QB
5th Season*

Matt Johns enters his fifth year as an assistant on W&M staff and his fourth coaching the quarterbacks. He will continue to serve as the Tribe's passing game coordinator after earning the promotion in 2022.

Johns made a tremendous impact on the Tribe's success in his first season as the Tribe's passing game coordinator, as W&M established itself as one of the nation's most efficient and dynamic attacks through the air. Under Johns' direction, W&M ranked seventh nationally in passing efficiency (164.62), fourth in yards per attempt (9.64) and sixth in yards per completion (15.06). Those figures helped the Tribe post 448.8 total yards per game and 33.5 points per game - averages that rank fourth and fifth, respectively, on the program's all-time single-season list.

Quarterback Darius Wilson has benefited tremendously from Johns' tutelage, as he emerged as one of the country's most dynamic and efficient signal callers as a sophomore in 2022. Wilson finished the year ranked fourth nationally in yards per pass attempt (9.42), sixth in yards per completion (14.91) and 11th in passing efficiency (158.6) and was honored as the state of Virginia's second-best quarterback by VaSID.

During the prior season, Wilson established himself as one of the nation's top freshmen and was honored as the CAA Offensive Rookie of the Year. Additionally, he broke W&M's true freshman record for passing yards and total yards.

A former starting quarterback at the University of Virginia, Johns joined the Tribe's staff after serving as a graduate assistant working with the Cavaliers' defense in 2018.

En route to helping Virginia post an 8-5 record, which included a shutout victory against South Carolina in the Belk Bowl, UVA's defense produced three All-Atlantic Coast Conference selections. Additionally, the Cavaliers ranked 11th nationally in interceptions (17), 16th in passing yards allowed per game (183.0) and 21st in scoring defense (20.1).

Mike London Jr.

*Video Coordinator • WR
5th Season*

Mike London Jr. enters his fifth season at W&M as the wide receivers coach and his fourth as the video coordinator.

London's group played an integral role in the Tribe's record-setting offense last season, as W&M boasted one of the nation's most efficient and dynamic attacks through the air. W&M ranked seventh nationally in passing efficiency (164.62), fourth in yards per passing attempt (9.64) and sixth in yards per completion (15.06). Those figures helped the Tribe post 448.8 total yards per game and 33.5 points per game - averages that rank fourth and fifth, respectively, on the program's all-time single-season list.

Under London's tutelage, W&M has produced some of the CAA's most dynamic wideouts during the last few seasons. Last fall, Caylin Newton garnered first-team all-conference honors as a specialist, while Zach Burdick (18.6) and Cole Blackman (16.4) both ranked among the league's best in yards per catch in 2021. After completing his collegiate career, Blackman signed a professional contract with the BC Lions (CFL).

London led a dynamic group of wideouts during his initial season with the Tribe in 2019, as multiple members of the unit flourished under his leadership. Kane Everson highlighted the position group and earned Freshman All-America honors after setting true freshman single-season school records for catches (46) and receiving yards (585). Zach Burdick also posted a breakout season under London's tutelage and ranked third in the conference and 16th nationally with 19.3 yards per catch.

London Jr. joined the Tribe's staff after a tremendously successful 2018 season as Howard University's wide receivers coach where he helped the Bison rank fourth nationally in yards per catch (17.27) and 16th in passing offense (278.0).

In addition to producing a pair of first-team All-MEAC wideouts, Jaquez Ezzard ranked seventh nationally in receiving yards per game (106.4) and 11th in receiving touchdowns (12).

Mario Acitelli

*Run Game Coord. • OL
2nd Season*

Mario Acitelli was promoted to W&M's run game coordinator during the offseason and will return for his second year as the Tribe's offensive line coach after rejoining the staff prior to the 2022 campaign.

Under Acitelli's direction, the Tribe's offensive line established itself among the nation's top units and was a dominant force in W&M's record-breaking 2022 campaign. The 2022 season was the best statistical season for the offensive line in school history. Through the regular season, the Tribe ranked 1st nationally in Sacks Allowed per game (0.64), 2nd in Explosive Runs (97), 3rd in Rushing Yards per game (274), 3rd in Rushing Yards per carry (6.3), and 6th in Rushing Yards before contact (1307). Additionally, the Tribe piled up 35 rushing touchdowns - the third-most in school history - as well as 448.8 total yards per game and 33.5 points per game - averages that rank fourth and fifth, respectively, on the program's all-time single-season list.

Acitelli's positive impact can also be seen in the development of one of the nation's top linemen in Colby Sorsdal, who was a consensus All-America selection and garnered an invite to the prestigious East-West Shrine Bowl before being selected by the Detroit Lions in the fifth round of the 2023 NFL Draft. Joining Sorsdal on the All-CAA First Team was left tackle Charles Grant, who also garnered national accolades as a member of HERO Sports Sophomore All-America Team.

An assistant on W&M's staff from 2014-18, Acitelli returned to Williamsburg in January 2022 with tremendous coaching credentials that included stints at LSU, North Carolina and Texas.

In addition to his success as a coach, Acitelli's exceptional playing career at Appalachian State was highlighted by a pair of FCS National Championships, All-America honors and earning the prestigious Jacobs Blocking Trophy, which is awarded to the Southern Conference's top offensive lineman.

Jack Armstrong

*Recruiting Director • TE
4th Season*

Jack Armstrong, a former team captain and wide receiver at W&M (2014-18), enters his fourth season as a full-time assistant and works with the tight ends. Additionally, will continue to serve as the recruiting director after earning the promotion in 2022.

Under Armstrong's leadership, the Tribe's tight ends once again played a tremendous role in W&M's success offensively, contributing as blockers in both the running and passing game and as receivers in the air attack. In addition to ranking fourth nationally in fewest sacks allowed per game (0.77), W&M set school records for rushing yards (3,455), rushing yards per game (265.8) and yards per carry (5.9). Additionally, the Tribe piled up 35 rushing touchdowns – the third-most in school history – as well as 448.8 total yards per game and 33.5 points per game – averages that rank fourth and fifth, respectively, on the program's all-time single-season list.

Armstrong also oversaw the development of one of the nation's elite tight ends in Lachlan Pitts, who earned rookie minicamp invites with the Chicago Bears and Minnesota Vikings following his impressive collegiate career. The All-CAA standout was selected as top tight in the state of Virginia last fall after ranking 14th nationally in yards per catch (19.39) and leading W&M in receiving yards (543), receiving yards per game (41.8) and touchdown catches (5).

Armstrong's first season on the staff in 2019 as an offensive analyst was an incredibly productive year for the Tribe. While W&M relied heavily on a talented true freshman class that included its starting quarterback, its leading receiver and three of its top four rushers, the offense nearly doubled its scoring output from the prior season – improving from 13.6 points/game in 2018 to 25.2 points/game in 2019. Additionally, W&M's total yardage per game catapulted by nearly 100 yards per contest.

Keenan Carter

*Recruiting Coordinator • DL
5th Season*

Keenan Carter enters his fifth season as the Tribe's defensive line coach and was promoted to recruiting coordinator during the offseason.

Carter has made a tremendous impact leading W&M's defensive front and that was the case once again last season. His unit helped the Tribe rank first nationally in fumbles recovered (15), seventh in turnovers gained (25), sixth in third down conversion defense (.315) and 16th in red zone defense (.736). Additionally, the Tribe ranked second in the CAA in sacks (33) – a figure that ranks seventh on the program's all-time single-season list.

Under Carter's leadership, the Tribe's defensive line has produced at least one all-conference standout during each of his four seasons. Nate Lynn once again highlighted the unit last fall and garnered multiple All-America honors for the second consecutive year. Additionally, Lynn was joined on the All-CAA Team by Carl Fowler, who was also chosen as a Campbell Trophy Semifinalist.

Carter's unit was instrumental in the Tribe's overall defensive success in 2021 as it ranked among the nation's top 20 in defensive touchdowns (11th), rushing defense (12th) and interceptions (18th). Additionally, W&M's 29 sacks were just two shy of ranking among the program's top-10 list, while it ranked third in the CAA in forced turnovers and pass efficiency defense.

Lynn also emerged as one of the nation's top players in 2021, as he earned multiple All-America accolades and was selected as a finalist for the Buck Buchanan Award, which honors the nation's top FCS defensive player. Will Kiely also garnered All-CAA honors for the second consecutive season.

Bill Murray is also among the individual Tribe standouts who benefited from Carter's tutelage, as the former defensive tackle earned first-team All-America honors from Hero Sports and signed a free agent contract with the New England Patriots.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Darryl Blackstock

*Special Teams Coord. • OLB
5th Season*

Darryl Blackstock enters his fifth season as an assistant on W&M staff and was promoted to special teams coordinator during the offseason. He will continue to work with the outside linebackers, a role he has held since 2020.

The 2022 season was another tremendously productive campaign for Blackstock's unit, as the group established itself among the nation's best and helped W&M rank among the country's most productive defenses. The Tribe ranked first nationally in fumbles recovered (15), seventh in turnovers gained (25), sixth in third down conversion defense (.315) and 16th in red zone defense (.736). Additionally, the Tribe ranked second in the CAA in sacks (33) – a figure that ranks seventh on the program's all-time single-season list.

Blackstock's positive impact can also be seen in the development of one of the nation's top players in John Pius. The sophomore was a unanimous All-America selection in 2022 and finished runner-up for the Buck Buchanan Award, which honors the nation's top FCS defensive player. Pius was also honored as the CAA Defensive Player of the Year after ranking fourth nationally in sacks (11.5) and fifth in TFL (19.0).

A seven-year NFL veteran as a linebacker/defensive end, Blackstock played professionally with the Arizona Cardinals (2005-07), Cincinnati Bengals (2008-09), Oakland Raiders (2011) and Baltimore Ravens (2012).

Selected by the Cardinals in the third round (95th pick overall) of the 2005 NFL Draft, Blackstock began his professional tenure after an outstanding collegiate career at the University of Virginia. A three-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference honoree, he led the league in sacks and ranked first in the nation among linebackers as a junior. His long list of collegiate accolades also includes being selected as the ACC Defensive Freshman of the Year by the Sporting News and garnering first-team freshman All-America distinction from numerous organizations.

COACHES/SUPPORT STAFF

Bill Parker

*Safeties Coach
1st Season*

Bill Parker enters his first season as W&M's safeties coach after joining the staff in February.

Parker, who coached at VMI the last three seasons, returns to Williamsburg after a standout playing career with the Tribe from 1999-03 when he earned first-team all-conference honors twice as a defensive back and had playing stints in various professional football leagues.

As an assistant on the Keydets' staff, Parker served multiple roles, including Interim Head Coach during VMI's head coaching transition this offseason. Prior to the 2022 campaign, Parker was promoted to Assistant Head Coach/Recruiting Coordinator and worked with the defensive backs. He also coached the running backs during his highly successful stint in Lexington that produced a SoCon title and back-to-back winning seasons.

Prior to joining VMI's staff, Parker coached tight ends at South Carolina State in 2019. He also coached in the professional ranks as the safeties coach for the Tampa Bay Vipers (XFL) in 2019 and as the safeties coach for the Montreal Alouettes (CFL) in 2017-18.

Before joining the coaching ranks in a full-time capacity, Parker played professionally in the NFL and was a member of the Miami Dolphins and Carolina Panthers. He also won a pair of Grey Cups with the Alouettes (2009, 2010). Throughout his CFL career, Parker returned home to Richmond during the offseason to coach the Richmond Revolution and the Richmond Raiders (AFL), where he served as a defensive coordinator, secondary coach and special teams coordinator.

Parker earned his undergraduate degree in sociology from W&M and was a valuable member of the Tribe's 2001 Atlantic 10 Conference Championship team.

Evan Light

*Quality Control - Offense
1st Season*

Evan Light is in his first season on the William & Mary football coaching staff as Offensive Quality Control Coach.

His primary responsibilities include assisting the offensive coaches with film break down, scouting reports, scout team practice assistant, and assisting the offensive line coach.

Light joins the Tribe after serving three years as a student assistant to the offensive coaching staff at Louisiana State University (LSU) in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. He worked primarily with quarterbacks and tight ends and assisted with live practices and on-field game day signaling.

Light earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Sport Administration/Leadership from LSU.

Caden Rohrbough

*Quality Control - Offense
1st Season*

Caden Rohrbough is in his first season as an offensive quality control coach on William & Mary's staff.

His primary responsibilities include assisting the offensive coaches with film break down, scouting reports, working with scout team defense, and assisting with the running backs.

Rohrbough joins the Tribe after serving as a student assistant coach at West Virginia Wesleyan College. There, Rohrbough coached the tight ends throughout the spring prior to his graduation. Other responsibilities Rohrbough carried at West Virginia Wesleyan College included assisting in recruiting efforts, coaching the long snappers, and film breakdown.

He played quarterback and long snapper for West Virginia Wesleyan College.

He is currently in the process of earning his Masters of Sports Coaching Degree through WVU.

COACHES/SUPPORT STAFF

Terry Smith

*Quality Control - Spec. Tm.
1st Season*

Terry Smith is the Special Teams Quality Control and Specialist Coach at William & Mary this season.

Smith began his coaching duties in spring 2023. He also works along with Coach Darryl Blackstock for all special teams duties.

Smith has more 30 years of combined high school and collegiate coaching experience. He has been a head coach, assistant coach and coordinator for a number of schools, including Radford HS, Nottoway HS, Jefferson Forest HS, Virginia HS, and the University of Virginia.

Smith has been a special teams coach for his entire coaching tenure, beginning at Virginia Tech in 1987 as a player under Coach Frank Beamer, and continuing at the University of Virginia in 2000 as a graduate assistant for Mike London (DT) and Rick Lantz (LB). At Virginia, he also worked with all specialists (punters, kickers and snappers). He coached in the 2000 O'ahu Bowl vs. Georgia.

Smith has a B.S. in Health and Physical Education from Virginia Tech (1991) and a M.S. in Administration and Supervision in Education from the University of Virginia (2003).

He is married to Margaret Hulvey Smith.

Bill Cole

*Assoc. AD for Football Admin.
10th Season*

An integral and valuable member of the Tribe's staff, Bill Cole enters his 10th season at William & Mary and was promoted to the role of associate athletics director for football operations in the spring.

Cole's primary responsibilities include scheduling, assisting with the coordination of travel, meals, housing, recruiting and other logistics pertaining to the football program.

Cole joined W&M's staff after serving as the director of operations at Wagner during the previous two seasons. In his role with the Seahawks, Cole's responsibilities included handling the budget, team travel, team meals, summer camps and player housing.

Among Cole's other duties were game day management, coordination of planning team events and special projects. Additionally, he interfaced with the college's faculty and staff as well as the athletic department's facilities, marketing and media relations offices.

Prior to joining Wagner's staff, Cole served two years as a staff assistant with football operations for the Miami Dolphins where he assisted with training camp, game day activities and scouting, among numerous other operational duties.

Cole began his coaching career as a student recruiting assistant at Florida State from 2007-09.

A native of Cooper City, Fla., Cole earned a bachelor's of science degree in sports management and business from FSU in 2008, while he received a master's degree in business administration from Wagner in 2012.

Kenny O'Mary

*Dir. of Athletics Performance
4th Season*

Kenny O'Mary, Associate Athletics Director/Director of Student Athlete High Performance, joined the William & Mary staff in January, 2021.

Reporting directly the Director of Medical Services/Chief Med Officer, O'Mary directs a comprehensive program designed to develop student-athletes to compete and win at the Division I level. He is responsible for areas involving nutrition, strength and conditioning, evaluating performance, and designing sport-specific training for all 23 of the university's varsity programs.

O'Mary came to W&M from Howard University, where he was Director of Strength and Conditioning for three and a half years. With the Bison, he oversaw 19 men's and women's teams with focus on strength and conditioning for football, volleyball, track & field, and women's soccer.

In O'Mary's first two years at Howard, current W&M head football coach Mike London led HU's program.

From October 2013 through June 2017, O'Mary was the Assistant Strength and Conditioning coach at the United States Military Academy. Before that, he spent more than four years at Eastern Kentucky as an intern (May 2009- May 2010), a graduate assistant (August 2010-May 2012), and Assistant Strength and Conditioning coach (July 2012-September 2013).

O'Mary, who grew up in Goshen, Kentucky, also served as an intern at Louisville for four months in 2011.

O'Mary is a 2010 graduate of Eastern Kentucky, where he majored in athletic training. He earned his master's degree in sports administration at EKV in 2012.

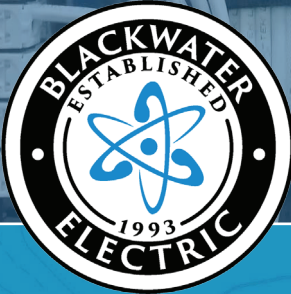

His certifications include the National Strength and Conditioning Association, USA Weightlifting, Precision Nutrition, and the American Red Cross.

Ema Kossin

*Head Football Athletic Trainer

Ema Kossin joined the Tribe staff during the summer of 2023 and serves at the Head Football Athletic Trainer.

During her athletic training career, Ema has incorporated the use of manual therapy techniques and functional rehab techniques into the healthcare programs for student athletes. Ema is a Certified Athletic Trainer (NATABOC), and a member of the National Athletic Trainer's Association (NATA).

Prior to joining the Tribe, Ema spent the previous five years serving as an Assistant Athletic Trainer with Gardner-Webb University Runnin' Bulldogs working with football and softball.

Before working with the Runnin' Bulldogs staff, she served as a Graduate Assistant Athletic Trainer at the University of Toledo from 2016-2018. While at Toledo, Ema worked primarily with the Rocket Football team as well as the men's tennis program.

Ema Kossin graduated from Florida State University in 2016 with a Bachelor's of Science Degree in Athletic Training. She then received a Master's of Science Degree in Exercise Science from the University Toledo in 2018.

Anthony Fisichella

*Asst. Football Athletic Trainer

Prior to his employment at W&M, Anthony worked as a Clinical-Outreach Athletic Trainer at Professional Physical Therapy in New York City. He primarily provided care at Carle Place High School but also treated high school, collegiate, and professional level athletes in the clinic.

In addition to football, Fisichella works with the Tribe lacrosse team.

Originally from Melbourne, FL, he now resides in Williamsburg. In his spare time, he enjoys being active and spending time with friends.

Shane Vernarsky

*Head Equipment Manager
10th Season*

Shane Vernarsky joined the W&M staff in the summer of 2014 and was promoted to Director of Athletics Equipment Services in July 2021 after previously serving as the head athletic equipment manager.

In his position, he organizes and manages a student work force and is responsible for all inventory and coordination of field use for the football program. He also is responsible for the stewardship of all the team's various vendor contracts.

One of the best in his profession, Vernarsky was recognized for his outstanding work when he was honored as a national finalist for the Raw Athletics Equipment Manager of the Year in 2014.

During his time with the Tribe, Vernarsky has implemented a first-class student-manager program that includes a dozen assistants each year. Highlighting those workers are a pair of assistants who have gone on to earn internships with NFL teams.

Vernarsky came to the W&M after serving as an assistant equipment manager at James Madison, as he worked with the program's football and basketball teams.

Prior to joining the Dukes' staff, he worked as a student equipment manager at San Jose State University from 2006-11. In addition to assuming the role of head student manager in 2007, he was part of the SJSU football team's New Mexico Bowl victory and served as an intern with Team USA Football.

Vernarsky got his start at College of the Desert Community College, where he served as an equipment manager from 2003-06.

Vernarsky has been a member of the Athletic Equipment Manager Association since 2007 and earned his Athletic Equipment Manager Certification (E.M.C.) in 2012.
