Towson Tigers

▶ The regular season will come to an end this week for the Towson University women's basketball team with a two-game road trip.

▶ The Tigers face William & Mary on Thursday at 7 p.m. before traveling to face Elon on Saturday at 2 p.m. Both games will be on FloSports and links to live stats can be found on the women's basketball schedule page on TowsonTigers.com.

▶ Last Time Out

Towson is coming off a split weekend after defeating Delaware last Friday and falling by three points to Drexel on Sunday. Nukiya Mayo led the Tigers on Friday with 26 points. Both she and Kionna Jeter scored 17 on Sunday against the Dragons. On Sunday the road team took a hefty lead early and went into the locker room at halftime with the advantage. Towson clawed back the entire third period and took the lead for the first time during the third. In the fourth quarter, the Tigers came within one point of tying it up but were unable to close the gap, losing 63-60.

▶ Scouting the Tigers

Kionna Jeter leads the offense with 18.6 points per game. Nukiya Mayo and Q. Murray wrap the trio of double-figure scorers with 16.3 and 11.1 points on average respectively. Mayo holds the lead in rebounds with 7.6 a night while Murray averages 5.2 assists per game. Ryan Holder has 43 blocks this season for 1.6 a game, leading the team. Jeter continues to lead Towson in steals with 3.1 a game. Towson enters the week with a 14-13 record overall and 9-7 in conference play. The Tigers have already lost to both the Tribe and the Phoenix this season.

▶ Scouting the Tribe

Eva Hodgson leads William & Mary with 20.4 points per game. Victoria Reynolds is also averaging double-figures with 15.6 points a night while grabbing 6.1 boards on average. Nyla Pollard paces the offense with 3.8 assists per game. The Tribe have already reached 20 wins, holding an overall record of 20-7 and an 11-5 mark in Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) action. William & Mary is coming off two straight wins, most recently at home over Elon, after falling in overtime to Drexel on Feb. 21. Drexel and UNCW are the only CAA teams thus far to defeat the Tribe at home. This season in Kaplan Arena, William & Mary is 9-3.

▶ The William & Mary Series

Thursday will be the 37th meeting between Towson and The College of William & Mary in women's basketball action. The Tribe lead the series 20-16 and won the last meeting on Jan. 5, 83-75 in SECU Arena. Towson has won four of the last eight meetings, the most recent victory for the Black & Gold was in February of 2019, an 82-75 win on the road. In Williamsburg the Tribe have a 9-8 advantage.

▶ Scouting the Phoenix

Elon enters the week with a 12-15 overall record and 7-9 in conference play. The Phoenix have lost the last four games, their last win was over Hofstra on Friday, Feb. 14 at home. Before Saturday's meeting against Towson, Elon will host James Madison on Thursday night. Ariel Colon leads the offense with 11.4 points per game with Brie Perpignan contributing 10.5. Colon leads on the glass too with five rebounds on average. The Phoenix have CAA wins over Towson, Charleston, UNCW and Hofstra.

Diane Richardson enters her third year leading the Towson University women's basketball program after being named the 10th head coach of the Tigers in 2017.

Last season, Richardson led Towson to its first program Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) Championship and the program's first berth to the NCAA Tournament. The Tigers saw an eight-game turnaround and entered the conference tournament tied for third place, and won three games to bring the trophy home. Richardson was named the CAA and ECAC Coach of the Year and she saw three players receive five All-CAA honors.

Among several accomplishments, the 2018-19 season saw Towson finish with the most wins in 10 years and the first winning season since the 2011-12 year. Richardson guided her Tigers through a season with wins over three Atlantic 10 teams, a six-game winning streak for the first time since the 2007-08 season and three CAA sweeps during conference play.

In her first season at Towson, Richardson saw Mary Cuevas and Nukiya Mayo receive All-CAA honors as Cuevas earned Second Team plaudits while Mayo was named to the Third Team. Cuevas was also named to the CAA All-Defensive Team.

Richardson was most recently an assistant coach and the recruiting coordinator at West Virginia University during the 2016-17 season. Richardson helped West Virginia win its first Big 12 Conference Championship as the Mountaineers defeated Oklahoma, Texas and No. 2 Baylor to claim the title. West Virginia advanced to the NCAA Tournament where the Mountaineers defeated Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) Champion Elon before falling to Maryland. Richardson played a key role in the development of Tynice Martin, Lanay Montgomery and Teana Muldrow, all of whom earned All-Big 12 Conference accolades.

Prior to her time in Morgantown, Richardson spent four years as an assistant coach at George Washington

HEAD COACH DIANE RICHARDSON

University. Richardson helped the Colonials improve their win total from 11 wins to a school record 29 wins after just two seasons. George Washington captured a pair of Atlantic 10 regular season and conference tournament championships. Richardson and the Colonials made a pair of NCAA Tournament appearances in 2015 and 2016 and an appearance in the WNIT Tournament in 2014. Richardson also played a key role in the development of Jonquel Jones, one of the most decorated players in George Washington history and current WNBA star. She also coached four all conference players, four all-tournament players and the A-10 Tournament MVP in back-to-back years.

Richardson had two successful stints as the head coach at Riverdale Baptist High School in Upper Marlboro, Maryland. She served as the head coach from 2001-06 and again from 2009-12 and during that time was responsible for all aspects of building and maintaining the nationally ranked program. Riverdale Baptist won five National Championships during Richardson's tenure and was ranked among the USA Today Top 10 in five of her eight years. She posted a 234-32 record and coached many talented players including Towson alum Dominique Johnson, who went on to become a 1,000 point scorer for the Tigers. Richardson was named the 2005 National High School Coach of the Year and also earned district and regional coach of the year accolades from the WBCA. She also organized an academic enrichment program which raised the team overall GPA to 3.6.

In between her stints at Riverdale Baptist, Richardson spent time as an assistant coach at the University of Maryland and American University.

At Maryland she helped the Terrapins post a 33-4 record and earn the number one seed for the NCAA Tournament. Richardson played a key role in the development of Crystal Langhorne, Marissa Coleman and Kristi Tolliver, all of whom became WNBA All-Stars.

At American Richardson served as the team liaison with academic services, compliance and marketing. She presented an in-depth plan and process for facilities use for a building occupied by four other sports, university events and academic services. Richardson helped establish the first team camp and worked with marketing, media relations and development to set the attendance record for a single women's game.

Richardson earned her master's degree in management from Central Michigan in 1984. She holds a bachelor's degree in psychology and sociology from Frostburg State. Richardson was the NCAA regional field goal percentage leader as a freshman in 1976. She also ran track at Frostburg and was the 1979 NCAA regional champion in the 200 and 400 meter races. She earned a spot on the 1980 US Olympic team, which did not compete in the games.

Richardson also has an extensive business background. She was the founder and C.O.O. for the American Security Companies. Richardson also served as the Vice President of the National Neighborhood Lending Marketing Team for Bank of America. She also served as the President and C.E.O. of RCI Financial for several years.
